Dear Delegates Leavitt, Browning, and Lucas,

Thank you for your continued dedication to the important issues surrounding the use of license plate readers in West Virginia. Our mission is to responsibly use technology to help make communities safer. We appreciate the rigorous oversight conducted by elected officials like yourselves on these issues of significant public interest. Flock advocates nationwide for robust guardrails regulating the use of license plate readers, and we fully support legislative efforts to establish such guardrails in West Virginia.

We value the extensive dialogue we have shared with you and your colleagues, including our two hour in-person discussion and the detailed written response to your follow-up questions that we previously provided. While we felt our prior correspondence addressed the questions posed, it is evident from your most recent correspondence that those answers were not satisfactory.

To avoid any further misunderstandings, we believe it would be beneficial to meet with you again. We would welcome the opportunity to sit down together to discuss your remaining questions and review our answers directly.

We are incredibly proud of the role our technology plays in creating and maintaining safer communities across West Virginia and the nation. Our work with law enforcement has saved lives, recovered missing and kidnapped persons, and helped solve countless property crimes, among many other positive effects. Equally important to us are the safeguards we continually enhance and refine to ensure transparency, accountability, and protection of core civil liberties. We are grateful for your leadership on these issues and look forward to resolving your questions and concerns.

Sincerely,
